

The Bayat Foundation's mission is to nourish at-risk Afghan families by giving all Afghans an opportunity to live in freedom, attend schools, find jobs, and prosper. As we tackle the scourge of modern slavery in Asia, the Bayat Group has chosen a path of action and leadership. And even though our country may be young compared to others; may not yet be in many global supply chains; or may even be viewed from the outside as being a nation too unsettled to be able to focus on this issue – we are determined champions of the Bali Process and efforts to eradicate modern slavery.

In the true Afghan spirit of action and community, we welcome you to Afghanistan to join us in collaborative efforts there. For if we can use modern technology and enlightened thinking to end modern slavery even in such a dynamic, youthful, and challenged nation as Afghanistan, just think what we can achieve together in even larger, more established, and more economically mature nations in the Asia Pacific region.
